

Privacy Policy RoverCash

Effective Date: March 15, 2017

Data collected and reasons for doing

We collect and use the following informations to ensure, improve and protect the delivery of our services:

We collect and associate with your account information such as the identity of your organization, your company, your full name, email address, telephone number, payment information, address and account activity. Some of our Services allow you to access your accounts and information from other service providers.

Our software is designed to allow you to record product sales you make to your customers. To make this possible, we store, process and transmit your data (such as product sheets, customer records, operations, sales and regulations), and associated information such as your user profile or your employee that facilitates this the collaboration. Our software allows to adjust the access rights of your employees, and identify which user performed which operation.

We collect information relating to how you use the software, including those concerning the actions you take in your account. This allows us to provide features such as the history of operations performed.

We also collect information from and about the devices you use to access the software. These include the make, model, and OS version of tablet you use.

Sharing collected data

We may share information as outlined below, but we do not sell to advertisers or other third parties.

The administrator of your RoverCash application has the ability to access user accounts and control. It then becomes possible to see your full name, your email address, profile image and IP address associated with your account.

We may disclose your information to third parties if we feel that it is reasonably necessary to comply with the law or fight against fraud or violence to RoverCash or LundiMatin or our users; RoverCash or protect property rights.

Methods of data collection

Security. Our teams help secure your information and research potential vulnerabilities.

Record-keeping. When the application has a backoffice, we keep the information you store on our software as long as necessary for the proper functioning of your business. After canceling your subscription, note that: the removal of your information on our servers and backup storage systems can take some time; and that we can maintain, if necessary, the information to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes and enforce our agreements. You can access your personal information by logging into your account RoverCash customer or application.

Scope

To ensure our services, we store your data on only in France hosted servers. Data can also be stored locally on the devices you use to access the software.

modifications

In case of reorganization, merge, acquisition or sale of our assets, your information may be transferred as part of this operation.